Beth Lipman, 2008

1. Pineapple ^{NEW} / Height 13.75" / $6,200 / 9453

Beth Lipman, 2008

The pineapple, a symbol of gracious hospitality, is one of many hand-sculpted crystal designs that comprise glass artist Beth Lipman's new collection for Steuben, which takes inspiration from Dutch 17th-century still life painting. It makes a magnificently symbolic gift for a house warming, or to thank a generous host.

2. Splish Bowl / Diameter 16" / $3,000 / 9077

3. Splash Bowl / Diameter 16" / $3,000 / 9076

Jeff Zimmerman, 2006

With this pair of sculptural serving platters, Zimmerman renders in crystal the "soft explosions" caused by raindrops as they meet the water's surface. Inspired by early experiments with high-speed photography, Zimmerman evokes a dimension of experience that is both scientifically intriguing and emotionally resonant.

1. Rose Vase / Height 11.5" /
$1,400 / 8090
George Thompson, 1959
May be personalized at additional cost.

Pared down and functional, this vase's flared top and narrow waist provide the perfect display structure for long-stemmed blooms such as roses or lilies. A wreath of interlocking abstracted flames encircles the waist of the vase, adding romantic detail to this mid-century classic, as well as providing a convenient means of lifting.

2. Hellenic Urn / Height 9.5" /
$1,600 / 8592
Robert Cassetti, 1990
May be personalized at additional cost.

Robert Cassetti's elegant urn, which recalls the form of an ancient Greek vessel, is adorned simply with symmetrically positioned scrolled glass handles.

3

3. Trillium Bowl / Diameter 9.75" /
$950 / 8089
Donald Pollard, 1958

Viewed from above, the base of this distinctive bowl resembles the three-petaled spring wildflower that inspired its form. The organic shape of the bowl is well suited to displaying fruits.

4. Bouquet Vase / Height 5" / $600 / 7985
George Thompson, 1949

With its cinched waist and flaring rim, this timeless Steuben classic allows flowers to fall naturally. Fill it with flowers for a cheerful birthday, thank-you, or get well gift.

WELCOME BABY

Celebrate baby's arrival with a cheerful Steuben sculpture that symbolizes the joy and innocence of childhood.

Whether you choose an adorable bear, a classic bathtub ducky, an alphabet cube, or a charming engraved merry-go-round, your gift will be a delightful keepsake of the happy occasion—and a treasured family heirloom for generations to come.

1. Carousel / Height 7.5" with base / $5,800 / 1246
Peter Aldridge & Jane Osborn-Smith, 1985
Sterling silver flag.
A Steuben reintroduction for 2007.

First introduced in 1985, this festive classic captures the American tradition of county fairs and pleasure parks, and speaks to the "child within." Turn the Carousel on its base and the three engraved merry-go-round steeds seem to move up and down on the poles as they go round and round, thanks to prismatic reflections in the glass. A splendid gift to celebrate childhood memories.

2. Teddy Bear Hand Cooler / Height 2.5" / $250 / 5531
David Dowler, 1995

welcome

3. Panda Bear ^{NEW} / Height 3.5" / $900 / 9475
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2009

Inhabiting China's mountain forests of bamboo, the Panda—an endangered species—symbolizes environmental preservation worldwide. Its black and white coat is artfully suggested through sculptural detail alone. An endearing gift for the collector, animal lover, or environmentalist.

4. Baby's Block ^{NEW} / Height 2" / $400 / 9539
Joel Smith, 2000

A Steuben reintroduction for 2009.

Personalized with name and date as shown / add $125

First introduced by Steuben designer Joel Smith in 2000, this popular series of alphabet blocks is again available. Blocks may be ordered in any letter of the alphabet—a personalized way to welcome a new child to the family.

5. Rubber Ducky Hand Cooler ^{NEW} /
Length 2.5" / $250 / 5585
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2009

This stylized version of the beloved yellow rubber ducky bath toy comes alive in clear Steuben crystal. New parents and nostalgic collectors alike will revel in the happy childhood memories recalled by this classic gift.

HISTORY OF HAND COOLERS

In 1974, the late Lloyd Atkins, Steuben's fabled animal designer for many decades, conceived the first examples of the symbolic miniature sculptures now known as Hand Coolers. He named these diminutive objects to recall their predecessors—the smooth, polished eggs of stone or porcelain used by aristocratic young women in the 18th century to ensure their hands would be cool when offered to a dance partner in the heated excitement of a royal ball. Polished to a smooth finish and small enough to clasp in one's palm for focus and serenity, today's Hand Coolers are designed to embody an attribute of special meaning to the giver or recipient. They make perfect gifts for any and all of life's little landmarks, and are avidly sought as collectibles, with new designs offered each year.

strength

Tiger Hand Cooler ^{NEW} / Height 2.25" / $250 / 5580
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2009

The tiger is universally recognized as a symbol of strength, courage, ferocity, and protection.

abundance

Fish Hand Cooler / Height 2.5" / $250 / 5560
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2006

Representing the abundance of the seas, the fish is also an ancient symbol of Christianity and a talisman of wealth in Feng Shui tradition. A gift of good fortune for all occasions.

renewal

Bunny Hand Cooler / Length 2.75" / $250 / 5547
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2003

Emblem of springtime's eternal rebirth, the bunny is also considered a symbol of immortality.

PERSONALIZE WITH THE LANGUAGE OF STEUBEN

Because each occasion has a different purpose, and each individual has a different character, Steuben offers a diverse range of glass inscription styles to ensure that your gift, award, commemoration or tribute is truly meaningful. Choose the Steuben language that best conveys your message and our artisans will then hand engrave your glass sculpture. Custom engraved pieces are not returnable.

SALES TAX

In accordance with applicable law, Steuben Glass LLC collects tax in New York State. Sales tax is applied to the total amount of the order including shipping and handling expenses and is based on the shipment's destination and local sales tax rates. All sales tax information is subject to change. For assistance in calculating your sales tax please call 1.800.steuben or visit www.steuben.com.

INTERNATIONAL SHIPMENTS

To inquire concerning shipping costs and duty charges, please call 1.800.steuben.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONS

Choose from glass designs created especially for engraving or create a magnificent one-of-a-kind sculpture with our design staff.

CUSTOM ENGRAVING

Steuben's sales consultants can provide you with expert guidance on custom engraving to truly personalize your gift with a name, date, or heartfelt sentiment that is inscribed directly on the glass. For those designs which do not accommodate glass engraving, a custom-inscribed presentation base is an elegant alternative.

60-DAY UNCONDITIONAL GUARANTEE

If your Steuben purchase is anything less than anticipated, it may be returned for a credit or exchange up to 60 days from the time of purchase. Items must be returned in good condition and must be in their original packaging and accompanied by a receipt. Custom-engraved pieces are not returnable. Complete return instructions are included on the packing slip for each order.

THE STEUBEN DIFFERENCE

UNSURPASSED PURITY AND BRILLIANCE

Our unique glass is made from an outstanding optical formula. Steuben's state-of-the-art melting ensures glass that is exceptionally pure and free of even the tiniest visual imperfections.

HANDMADE WITH TRADITIONAL METHODS AND TOOLS

Each piece of glass to leave our Corning factory is the work of many skilled hands. There are no shortcuts at Steuben.

INTERNATIONALLY RENOWNED CRAFTSMANSHIP

From the simplest bowls to the most ornately embellished exhibition pieces, each piece of Steuben is crafted to the highest standard. We honor and preserve the centuries-old, time-intensive art of copper-wheel engraving, now practiced at few places other than Steuben.

AN AMERICAN COMPANY

Since 1903, Steuben has been made by hand at our glasshouse in Corning, New York by generations of skilled artisans, many from the same local families. At the start of our second century, we have expanded our portfolio of techniques, crafting new lines of extraordinary barware, stemware and select tableware in Europe.

A SOUGHT-AFTER COLLECTIBLE

Steuben's unique hand coolers, animals, and sculptural designs are avidly collected for pleasure and enduring value.

SIGNATURE STEUBEN CLASSICS

Many of Steuben's early functional pieces (like the 1939 Olive Dish) have come to be recognized as icons of Midcentury Modern design.

DESIGNS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Steuben is noted for its wide range of inspiring and imaginative designs that tell a story or celebrate a sport, holiday, hobby or skill.

DISTINCTIVE PERSONALIZATION

Most Steuben pieces may be engraved or inscribed. A personal message to a loved one or a respected colleague imbues a Steuben gift with added resonance. We offer a range of elegant calligraphic styles, and a collection of symbols, icons, and Zodiac signs in The Language of Steuben.

PEERLESS CUSTOMER SERVICE

Steuben's courteous, highly trained associates are ready to assist with all of your requirements and requests. Your satisfaction is unconditionally guaranteed.

GIFT CARDS

Can't decide on the perfect gift? Take the guesswork out of gifting with a Steuben gift card, which comes beautifully packaged with the latest Steuben catalog. Gift cards may be purchased online at steuben.com, by calling 1.800.steuben, or by visiting our stores in New York City and Corning.

3. Dachshund ^{NEW} / Length 5.25" /
$700 / 9440
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2008

A small dog with the heart of a large one, the dachshund is a loyal and amusing companion. Our attentive Dachshund is sculpted and hand-polished to suggest the silky, smooth coat of this lovable breed. A wonderful gift for the dachshund household, and an appealing collectible.

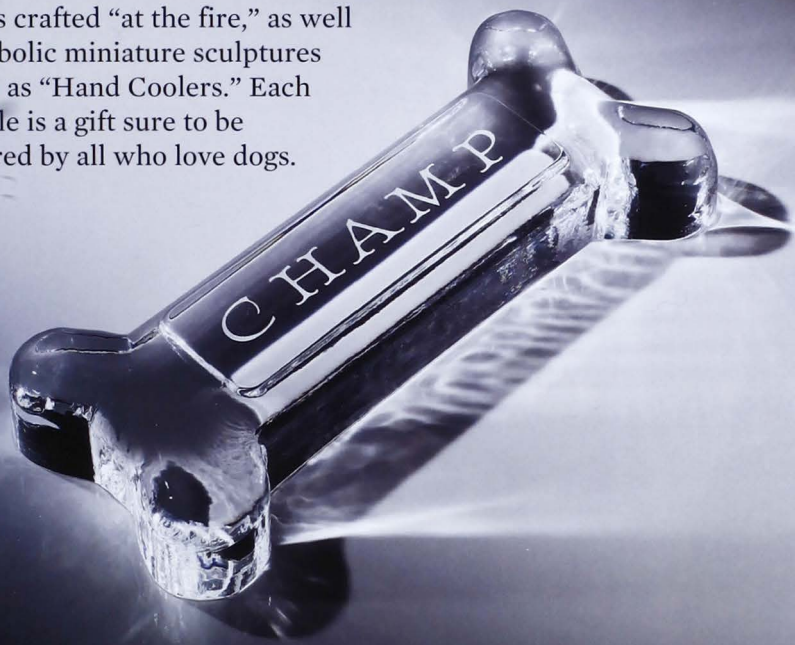

4

4. Shih Tzu ^{NEW} / Length 4" / $700 / 9450
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2008

With its luxurious coat and aristocratic bearing, this ancient breed was prized by Tibetan nobility who dubbed it a “small lion” for its graceful mane. Sculpted in hand-polished crystal, the small dog’s long and luxurious fur falls in graceful curves around its feet. An appreciated gift for one who loves the tradition and kind eyes of the Shih Tzu, it is also a find for the collector.

PUPPY LOVE

Steuben's renowned canine collection offers fluid hand-formed designs crafted "at the fire," as well as symbolic miniature sculptures known as "Hand Coolers." Each example is a gift sure to be treasured by all who love dogs.

5. Crystal Biscuit ^{NEW} / Length 5" / $300 / 9491
Steuben Design Team, 2009
Personalized as shown / add $125

What better way to celebrate the life of a beloved canine companion than with a bone of sparkling Steuben crystal, especially when it is engraved with the good dog's name. A splendid award for "Best of Show" in a competition, it will also make a radiant memento for one who has lost a cherished pet.

1. Cat with Daisy / Height 5" / Width 5.25" /
$6,500 / 1254

Kiki Smith, 2008

Numbered, limited edition of 50.

Sterling silver brooch, approximately 2 inches in diameter.

A crystal cat—tail and paws dancing—plays with a sterling silver daisy, also designed by Smith, that can be removed and worn as a brooch. Each enchanting example is signed by both the artist and Steuben.

2. Curious Cat / Height 4" / $850 / 9287

5. Cat Hand Cooler / Width 2.5" / $250 / 5520

Lloyd Atkins, 1983

It is said that a cat can ensure a happy union just by appearing on the wedding day.

HORSE PLAY

Thoroughly thoroughbred, Steuben's collection of hand-polished crystal equine sculpture pays tribute to the beauty and nobility of the horse. Each piece makes an appreciated gift that will bring many years of pleasure to the horse fancier.

1. Horse Head / Height 5" / $600 / 7779
Sidney Waugh, 1937

Noted American sculptor Sidney Waugh created this Steuben classic more than seventy years ago. It remains a prestigious and widely recognized business gift to this day.

2. Equestrian Decanter / Height 10.5" / 34 fl. oz. / $900 / 5108
David Dowler, 2003

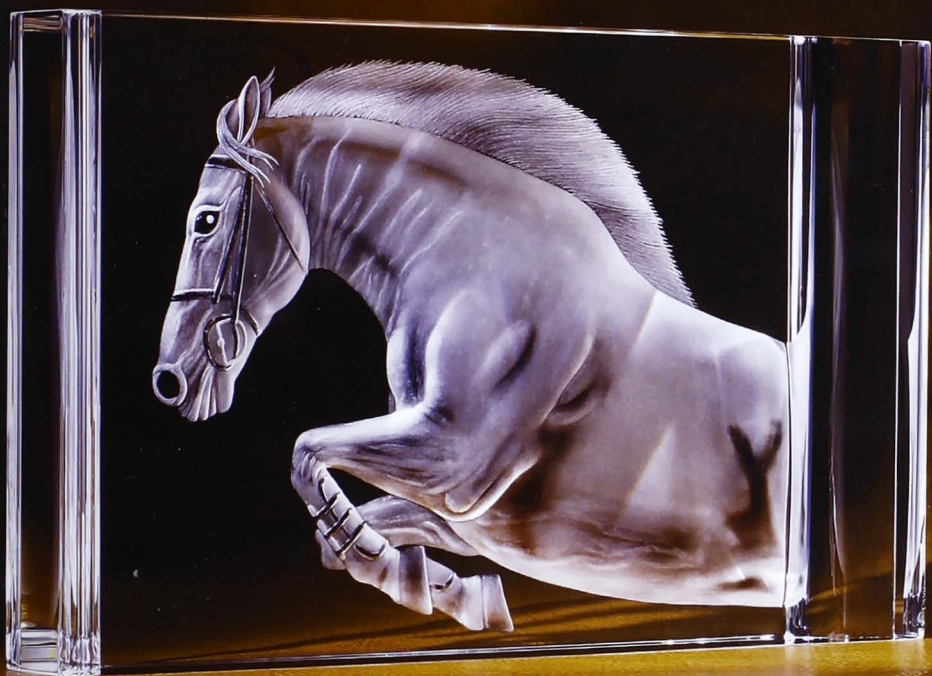

Inspired by an enduring Steuben classic—Sidney Waugh's 1937 Horse Head sculpture—the Equestrian Decanter's rounded silhouette and subtle rise in the interior base combine to evoke the shape of a stirrup. Crowned by a stopper in the shape of a regal horse's head, this signature piece is a must when starting a new collection.

3. Yearling / Length 5.5" / $650 / 8985
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2003

This sculpture captures each detail of an alert young horse at rest—from its pricked ears to the ridge of hair that runs down its back.

4. The Steed ^{NEW} / Width 11" / $25,000 / 0601
Joseph Piccillo, 2008
Numbered, limited edition of 25.

Every detail of this copper-wheel engraved stallion vibrates with energy as it appears to leap from the edge of the sculpted glass block. Piccillo is internationally acclaimed for his sought-after graphite works of horses and dancers, which are avidly collected. His work is represented in both the Museum of Modern Art and the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

1. Running Free / Width 18.75" with base /
$10,000 / 1249

Gary Weisman, 2008

Black granite base may be personalized at additional cost.

Hand-cast in a block of solid crystal,
a family of two adults and their colts gallops together in unbounded space, capturing the timeless freedom of wild horses. A symbolic gift for the passionate lover of the outdoors.

2. Full Gallop / Length 9" / $1,500 each / 8817
Peter Drobny, 1999

In a celebration of animal strength and speed, this wild horse is captured in mid-stride, with tail and mane flowing and muscles rippling.

Optional birch base / Length 11.75" /
$220 / 2966

Base may be personalized at additional cost.

3. Horse Head Hand Cooler / Height 3" /
$250 / 5548

Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2003

May be personalized at an additional cost.

1. Starfish^{NEW} / Diameter 5.5" / $1,600 / 1282

Peter Drobny, 2009

This graceful echinoderm is ubiquitous in tidal pools and on ocean floors from the tropics to the arctic regions. Drobny's version is kiln cast in a mold made from an actual Sea Star, then etched to detail its body and the outer edge of the round form that recalls a sparkling tidal pool.

2. Nassa Shell / Length 6.5" / $900 / 9161

3. Atys Shell / Length 4.25" / $800 / 9163

4. Tibia Shell / Length 8" / $900 / 9162

Sean O'Hara, 2007

Glistening shells from faraway seas make poetic gifts for birthdays and holidays—a grand way to build a collection of coveted Steuben glass for yourself or someone special.

5

5. The Ocean Below ^{NEW} / Width 10" /

$14,500 / 0613

Joel Smith & Elsa Warnick, 2009

Numbered, limited edition of 50.

This inspiring design celebrates the wonder and beauty of an undersea reef as observed by those who snorkel or scuba dive. Its cast-glass form combines rough side edges – achieved by using actual coral to create the impressions – with a smooth undulating top that suggests the surface of the water. It is perfect for capturing memories of a seaside vacation or as a special gift to anyone beguiled by the world beneath the waves.

6. Scallop / Width 3.5" / $400 / 9082

James Noll, 1989

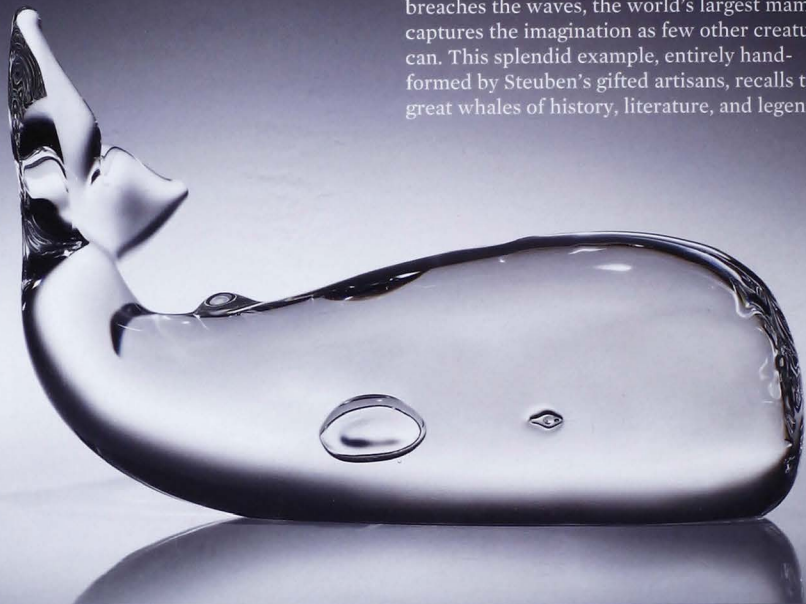

A Steuben reintroduction for 2006.

6

1. Whale^{NEW} / Length 8.5" / $2,900 / 9492
Steuben Design Team, 2009

With its great bulk, mysterious undersea songs, dedication to its young, and acrobatic antics as it breaches the waves, the world's largest mammal captures the imagination as few other creatures can. This splendid example, entirely hand-formed by Steuben's gifted artisans, recalls the great whales of history, literature, and legend.

2. Sea Turtle / Length 9.5" with base /
$2,900 / 9164
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2007
Green granite base may be personalized at additional cost

3

3. Walrus^{NEW} / Length 6.25" / $4,100 / 9484
Taf Lebel Schaefer, 2009

Lumbering on land but agile in the arctic waters of its habitat, the dignified walrus is renowned for its well-padded frame, tough wrinkled hide, and yard-long tusks. Steuben's rendition is hand-formed of optically pure crystal that bulges and glistens to create the Walrus's enormous body, accented by opaque glass tusks that are said to symbolize innocence, faith, and charity.

4. Magical Frog / Height 2.5" / $850 / 9051
Eric Hilton, 2005
Green tourmaline eyes.

Vivid green tourmaline eyes recall the fairytale transformation of frog to prince with the kiss of true love. Symbol of charmed existence.
